SOCIAL STUDIES CURRICULUM (MS)

- ▶ This course takes the students on a journey through the Western Hemisphere, in countries such as the United States, Canada, and Latin America, and also covers Europe. Using knowledge of the elements of geography, including map skills, students will be transformed into amateur geographers, equipped to explore diverse physical environments, cultures, and peoples from around the world. Educators teach all material from a Biblical Worldview perspective.

SOCIAL STUDIES CURRICULUM (MS)

- ▶ This course provides students with a study of the major people and events in American History beginning with early European explorers and continuing through the Reconstruction Era following the Civil War. Incorporating a variety of sources in addition to the textbook, the course requires students to examine the people and events important to the country's history as well as the individual and nation's responsibilities to its future. Teachers present all material and guide all discussion from a Biblical Worldview. Students will gain a better appreciation for and understanding of the major people and events in American History.
